

WE NOMINATE

Erich (von) Kahler, a "humanist in the grand tradition" and one of the most influential humanistic scholars of this century, who this past week (October 14) in the quiet of his Evelyn Place home celebrated his 80th birthday. Seldom "read" or quoted by laymen, and little known beyond the reaches of academe (even in the community which has been his permanent residence for over a quarter-century), this remarkable octogenarian, once described by Albert Einstein as a member of the handful "disinterestedly serving the cause of truth, reason and justice," continues his selfless efforts in working for "a saner world."

The author of a number of enduring works, the most recent of which, "The Meaning of History," appeared last year with a posthumous dedication to his close friend and "adversary," Ernst H. Kantorowicz—at The Institute for Advanced Study—Kahler in the month ahead will travel to the West Coast at the invitation of The Fund for the Republic to carry forward his studies—started in 1948 in Chicago—on a "World Constitution." Next spring he will reverse directions and will fly eastward to Israel for the opening of the Van Leer Foundation for the Advancement of Human Culture, an undertaking that has long held his interest.

Kahler, "peripatetic by vocation and inclination," first came to Princeton in 1939 at the suggestion of Thomas Mann whom he had come to know during five years of "lonely exile" in Switzerland. A native of Prague, Czechoslovakia, but educated in German universities, Kahler had returned to Germany after earning his doctoral degree in Vienna in 1911. Although his life was tragically split in two by the German calamity of 1933, that made him an exile east forth in an alien world, he became, in Mann's opinion, the "most expert and most poignantly understanding analyst of the German character and fate that we have."

It was here in Princeton, several years after he had been "stripped" by the Nazis, that Kahler sent down new and lasting roots and became a key figure in a group that included Einstein, Mann, Kantorowicz, novelist Hermann Broch, mathematician Hermann Weyl and physicist Wolfgang Pauli. Significantly enough, in 1943 his first gift to his new homeland, of which he has long been a naturalized citizen, was a history of culture written in English, "Man the Measure," a broad and towering composition, that appeared only six years after he had published in German, "The German Character in the History of Europe."

Kahler, associated over the years with both The Institute for Advanced Study and Princeton University and eagerly sought as a lecturer by institutions as widely different as Black Mountain College and the University of Rochester, succeeds in fusing historical, philosophical and literary studies and is essentially "a scholar's scholar." Some years ago, shortly following the publication of Kahler's "The Tower and The Abyss," the late T. S. Eliot, seldom given to high praise, wrote in part: "There have been many books written in the predicament of our age, some of which I have read, but none of which has impressed me more deeply."

For ever seeking "some orientation and guidance in our badly disrupted human world"; for his contributions as a forceful, persuasive and ever-gentle Princetonian; for his "deep faith in the creative energy of the human being"; he is our nominee as

This Is PRINCETON

WHO WAS DOROTHEA?
Study to be Made, Dorotha Van Dyke was the daughter of Henry Van Dyke, Princeton's author-in-residence in the early 20th century.

In her memory, the Van Dykes gave "Dorotha House" on John Street, to "the people of Princeton," especially "those of the Italian race" as a kind of settlement house, and this bequest came to the forefront of Princeton's news this week.

Dorotha House, the Borough school on Quarry Street, the engineering building on Witherspoon and Green, and the Bannan warehouse on Maclean Street, will all be studied for possible community use by a special panel appointed by the Citizens Survey Committee of the United Fund and the Council of Community Services.

A Special Panel on the Use of Certain Buildings in the Borough is the rather Victorian title bestowed upon this new committee. Its purpose, however, are anything but Victorian. Its members will plunge into discussions with the owners of all these buildings, with people who might turn out to be purchasers, with possible tenants. As the "charge" to the panel, they will "survey that situation in as great depth as possible necessary."

Dance Classes? Offices? What, for example, would you do with Quarry Street School, due for abandonment when the Borough moves its children to Walnut Lane?

A meeting on the subject was held in June and somebody said a committee of John-Quarry-Witherspoon residents ought to be formed. They would talk about the old building and consider what could be done with it that might benefit the neighborhood.

No such committee was ever formed. The Citizens Survey Committee was, however, on hand, and with the agreement of John-Quarry-Witherspoon residents, the C.S.C. took over.

But, to return to the original question, what can be done with Quarry Street School? Well, the Borough has done a "basement-to-basement" survey of the building and has found it unfit to be used.

It could, however, house all United Fund agencies, nestled economically together; house a common file, a common telephone switchboard, perhaps the same receptionist. And why not set up both Borough and Township welfare departments there? Both have shockingly inadequate facilities where they are now, and in the Quarry Street building they could have a joint waiting room, individual and private interview rooms, classrooms.

and economy for both. Such a system would mean that the new Borough Hall and whatever new Township Hall is built, need not have spare for welfare departments. Economy again.

Health? Nurseries? By the could be the home of the two Boards of Health — Borough and Township. Perhaps the Joint Recreation Board and Recreation Director could have their offices in the building as well.

Or, — and this is even more provocative — the Leigh Avenue Nursery School is pitifully cramped for room. By all state laws it can care for only 40 children because of its space limitations, but it should provide for many, many more.

If the school could move to the Quarry Street building, it would have not only more space, but a playground in back and even parking facilities.

Backed up against the playground is the Quarry Street School is the land around the Bannan warehouse. The two properties are contiguous — back to back — providing sizeable space for future developments.

Bannan's, for the education of newcomers, used to be a specialty grocery store in Princeton. After the store went out of business, the company retained the Maclean Street warehouse and now the Bannan estate rents it to another concern for warehouse purposes.

PROGRESS REPORT

TOWN TOPICS' circulation this week has reached an all-time high of 17,000. A figure that is more than five times greater than the number distributed when it began publication in 1946.

A Park Is Fine. The Bannan land could be a fine little green Acres park in the heart of section of Princeton. The warehouse is perfectly good and could be used, but it is not a building in the sense of the others.

In zoning terminology, the Bannan warehouse is a "non-conforming use" — a commercial building in a residential neighborhood, in existence before the neighborhood was zoned "residential."

It has been suggested that the Bannan and Quarry School properties combined would be a lower-middle income housing location. Residents of the area, however, feel quite differently. They might, grudgingly, agree to apartments built to the precise definitions of the zoning law, but when the Borough Board of Education asked for a zoning variance to raise the number of allowed apartments so that a buyer might be enticed into purchasing the neighborhood went up in arms. In the eyes of area residents, apartments of any kind, mean much more density.

Besides, to tear down Quarry Street School and rebuild anything, would be prohibitively expensive for anyone.

On Green Street . . . The "Engineering Building." This comparatively modern building on the corner of Witherspoon and Green Streets houses the United Fund offices and the Borough's engineering, planning and building-permit offices. When the new Borough Hall is built, these desks will move to new quarters, and the space they occupy will be vacant.

For some time, the Princeton Junior Museum has been interested in the Engineering Building. It is accessible to children from all parts of town, it is large enough for hundreds of little feet and capacious exhibits, and it is close to the new public library. Without doubt, the Museum's efforts will be approached in the course of the Panel's surveys.

Dorotha House itself is semi-public in nature. Governed by trustees, the family house on John Street houses The Family Service Agency, the Mercer County offices of the YMCA, the Youth Employment Service and, at one time, a drop-in lounge for high school students.

There has always been some question as to whether the county offices of the YMCA are permitted in a building set aside "for people of Princeton" but perhaps the study committee will ferret this out.

Dorotha House is also the meeting place for the members of "Roma Eterna," a club for Princetonians of Italian ancestry which represents the vestige of interest which these residents still have in the affairs of Dorotha House. Most Princetonians with an Italian background belong to the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club.

Decide Now. "Early consideration of possibilities for the use of these buildings has become a matter of some urgency because of Borough Council's recent decision to proceed with plans for a new Borough Hall," said H. Philip Conrad, Editor, Page 2.

Minis, chairman of the City and County Committee for the United Fund.
"If any public agency might properly be housed in any of the buildings under discussion the taxpayers would benefit and such buildings should be made to Borough Council before plans for the new Borough Hall become frozen," Mr. Minis said.

The panel that will interview, discuss and recommend consists of William R. Crosby, president of Princeton Bank and Trust, as chairman.

Members are Andrew J. Austin, former Republican member of Borough Council; Henry Broad for the United Fund; Raymond A. Bowers of Palmer Brothers, a construction expert who has already taken numerous prospective buyers on beam-by-beam tours of Quarry Street School.

Also John DiDonato, president of the Italian American Sportsmen's Club; Robert W. King, who was recommended to the Committee by PAHR for his knowledge of the John - Quarry - Witherspoon neighborhood; Mrs. Catherine Mitchell, acting president of the Council of Community Services.

Mr. Minis, who is chairman of the United Fund-Council of Community Services; the Rev. Edward Smith of the First Baptist Church; Anthony Perone, president of Roma Eterna; William Coley, executive director of the Fund-Council Survey.

These men and women have a deadline that isn't far away: December 16, 1965. The Borough hopes to be in a move-shed position on its new Borough Hall by January 1, and time is important for the sake of ease and economy.

To complete this mission fruitfully will require tact, resourcefulness and an acute sense of public relations. Mr. Minis said in the instructions to the panel, "It will constitute an important contribution to the community."

Three Princeton area drivers had their licenses suspended under the state's point system. They are Edward M. Esposito, 20, 9 Harris Road, who lost his license for 120 days; John P. Seitz, 19, W. Franklin Avenue, Pennington, three months; and James W. Parr, 55, 237 State Road, 45 days.

Workhouse Term Suspended. In criminal court, James Hall, 41, 145 John Street, pleaded guilty to a charge of creating a disturbance. He received a 30-day suspended sentence to the Mercer County Workhouse on the condition he stop drinking. Specifically, Ptl. Douglas Watson charged the defendant with entering Hinkins' Stationery Shop, 82 Nassau Street, early Wednesday morning, barefooted, with a club in hand, chasing an imaginary person.

ASK EMERGENCY ACTION On Borough Police Bill. The legislative schedule of the state Assembly has temporarily delayed passage of the bill waiving residence requirements for police in the Borough.

Assemblyman Charles E. Farrington and his colleagues Edward Sweeney and S. Howard Woodson Jr. have introduced the Borough Bill in the Assembly, and have written to Senator Side L. Ridolfi asking him to urge immediate passage in the Senate.

The Township police bill, which is the same, was introduced into the Assembly a week earlier than the one in the Borough and received from the Senate the emergency treatment that resulted in its passage on May 24.

TOPICS Of The Town

TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOLS
Board Reaffirms Its Stand.
"Township High" moved closer to realization this week. Following an executive session Monday night, the Township Board of Education reaffirmed its position that the "best way to complete the Township school system is to establish a separate high school as soon as possible."

The statement reflects a unanimous decision on the part of Township Board members, a spokesman said.

"The Township School Board reaffirms its position that a continuous program from kindergarten through 12th grade under a single board of education and administration is essential to provide the best education for Township children."

"While we continue to welcome alternative proposals to achieve this goal, we believe that with the defeat of regionalization, the best way to complete the Township school system is to establish a separate high school as soon as possible."

The Board will hold its October public meeting next Wednesday, October 27, at 8 p.m. in the library of Valley Road School.

What Other Ideas? "We sincerely mean it when we say we welcome alternative proposals," said Mrs. George Freeman, of the Board.

One alternative is a regionalized high school; however, Township Board members believe this would be impossibly cumbersome. It would mean that Borough and Township would have to elect a third school board to run the high school. It would mean that both Borough and Township boards would have to work out a high school curriculum which would harmonize with the curriculum of the two elementary school districts.

Also, state education officials are known to be against a regionalized high school in this particular situation.

Stung by the Borough's rejection, Township School Board members have said privately that, with the Borough feeling as it does, these board members do not ever, under any circumstances, want to be in a minority position with respect to the Borough Board. The Township has not felt like this before.

In addition, Township Board members believe that Borough and Township members, even those in favor of merger, do not realize the difficulties faced by a Board which does not have complete K-12 control.

"It's a constant rope around the neck," one Township board member said. "We must constantly consider how we can tailor our own curriculum to fit what somebody else decides the youngsters will get in high school. In a regionalized high school, the Borough would itself face this situation because the new regionalized high school board would have the Borough Board member would be confronted with exactly the situation we have today."

ASK FLUORIDE ACTION
But Committee Declines.
After watching a lengthy presentation involving two cartons of milk (one fluoridated), a tube of toothpaste, a quart jar of water and a bottle of fluoride tablets, Township Committee declined Monday night to act on a resolution against fluoridation presented by the Citizens Water Committee.

The exhibit was presented by Mrs. Milla Gibbons Gardner who set her props before Committee to show how many ways fluorine could be administered without touching the water supply.

"We cannot overemphasize our feeling of abridgement of rights," stated Mrs. Arthur Biddoe. "We are captive consumers who cannot turn to a competing water company for non-fluoridated water."

"I'm satisfied that our Board of Health is looking after the health of the community," stated Mayor Carl C.

Schafer, Committee men, asked whether they wanted to take action on the Citizens' resolution, remained silent.

TV or not TV? Township residents may be able to subscribe to a community antenna television system if an application is approved at public hearing on November 15. Community Antenna Service Inc. has applied for permission to operate its service, a master antenna with connections leading to subscriber's homes, rather like telephone hook-ups. Subscribers tune out their individual antennas and apparently tune in to better reception on all channels than they had before.

The system does not interfere with the antennas of non-subscribers. The firm would retain utility poles and would string its wires overhead.

Although its chief function would be the sale of antenna service, Community Antenna Service might also use Channel 8 for educational TV piped into schools or for community emergencies. It would not be allowed to use any closed-circuit for partisan political purpose.

The Township would collect 5% of the annual gross as a communications tax. Under Federal communications statutes, municipalities are given watchdog responsibility for services like the one, so there must be a resolution and public hearing before the company can move in. The 5% fee is standard in other communities that have similar services. The individual subscriber fee is about $7.50 for installation, $5 per month.

Tennis! The tennis season moved closer Monday as Committee awarded the contract for laying out the 15 community Gardens courts. The P.C. Fels Co., builder of all University courts, won with $99,502. Other bids went as high as $147,764. The Township's estimate was $110,000.

Economy was the keynote as Administrator Joseph R. Nini told Committee he had obtained $7,500 from Transcontinental Gas Pipeline for a school, easement, through Brookstone. The company's original offer was $2,000. "Mr. Nini is to be congratulated," said Mayor Schafer.

Economy again, as Committee passed resolutions authorizing application for Federal open space funds to pay half the cost of the Van Dyke Wright property and "Herron Woods." The Van Dyke Wright acquisition represents a particular triumph because a private developer is understood to have been ahead in trying to obtain the land.

Fashion Notes

Autumn wears a Golden hue. A bright red dress. A hat that's blue. She also wears a Veil of mystery. I wonder what she'll wear today?

Something to go with Indian Summer, no doubt. That delightful part of the fall season is at hand, and will last another week to ten days.

Temperatures several degrees above normal, and no major precipitation forecast. That's the word, right through the weekend.

Committee has been notified that the Federal government will pay 50% instead of 30% of the cost of the Harrop trail. Since the state is already committed to 50%, "this is pretty sound financing," in the words of Mayor Schafer. "I wonder" he mused, after a moment's thought, "whether we could get the Borough to pay 10%?"

TO HOLD DEDICATION Of Princeton Day Schools. Dr. Deley W. Brook, president of Rockefeller University, and former president of Johns Hopkins University, will speak at the dedication of the Princeton Day Schools Sunday at 4 in the school gymnasium. Mrs. David J. Rose is chairman of the dedication committee.

Dr. Brook, an internationally known scientist-researcher and holder of more than 44 honorary degrees in his country and abroad, is also known as a proponent of a strong humanities program at all levels of education. His son, Mitchell W. Brook, is a science teacher at the school.

A separate dedication ceremony will be held Friday for the student body, with Dr. Chester R. Stroup, Borough superintendent of schools, as speaker. Dr. Stroup is a trustee of Princeton Day Schools.

Sunday's dedication program for parents, faculty, education and friends, includes an address by Herbert MacKenney, acting headmaster of the upper school. Mrs. J. Richardson Dilworth, chairman of the board of trustees, will introduce the speaker.

The Rev. Ernest Gordon, dean of the Princeton University Chapel will give the invocation and benediction. There will be a tour of the building with faculty members on hand to answer questions.

Serving on the dedication committee are Mrs. James C. Saxon, Mrs. Newell Brown, Mrs. Frederick C. Roberts, Mrs. Michael Ramus, Mrs. Jo-

CHECKING ACCOUNT

Paying off with strings of beads was fine for yesterday's bills — but beads are no longer acceptable as legal tender. On the other hand you need not pay in person, with cash. Using handy checks, simply seal through the mail, avert time and step — in fair weather or foul. And your check provides the best kind of receipt. Your very own checking account helps you handle your money like a going business, too. If you are using checks, it will be well worth your while to come in today and say "I'd like to open my very own checking account."

THE CAMPAIGN: II
In Borough Township, Planning occupied both Republican and Democratic candidates in Borough and Township this week.

Township (B.) "I feel strongly that the Township should continue to be a single-family community and that the present land use is appropriate," stated Carl C. Schaefer, mayor, who is running for his second term on Committee.

Mr. Schaefer cited the Township Planning Board's objectives as his, also: "The focus of the Township shall be on maintaining standards for residential development that will ensure the creation of a primarily single-family residential area of high quality and visual attractiveness."

Referring to the Township's doubled population (5,000 to 10,000 between 1950 and 1960), Mr. Schaefer said, "This is dynamic growth which must be orderly and in accordance with good planning principles. Only then can it be controlled and properly integrated with the established pattern of the town."

Mr. Schaefer also referred to the Open Space program, defining it as "an essential bulwark against population pressure." The acquisition of land must be undertaken now while the land is still available there is no second chance.

Mr. Schaefer's running mate, Burton Peckin, concurred.

Township (D.) Melvin Gottlieb, the Township's Democratic candidate said, "We must substitute directed growth for piecemeal biddings and look for new ways to solve the problems of traffic, vandalism, local civil rights and adequate housing for teachers and municipal employees."

Mr. Gottlieb added his belief that the Township should draw upon the talents of all its residents, regardless of party affiliation or length of residence in the community." He urged a break-through in the "one-party" system in the Township. If he is elected, Mr. Gottlieb would be the only Democrat on Committee.

Rorough (B.) "The Patterson Administration is strongly committed to a policy of planning Princeton's growth for a proper balance between business and residential growth," said the borough Republican statement this week.

"Profitable businesses are essential to the welfare of the entire community, however, a disproportionate expansion of the business district can only upset this balance. Likewise, indiscriminate building of apartment houses would seriously hamper efforts to improve Borough services to its residents by creating a sudden influx of new residents."

The Republican statement listed increased municipal services at a tax rate substantially the same as the present. The new joint public library acquisition of Miss Fine's building; completion of two new parking lots; adoption of a new building code and study of a regional planning board.

overwhelming challenge facing the community," said Joseph L. Bannan, Democratic candidate for Council. Mr. Bannan claimed that Republicans "have not delivered on the pledge of four years ago to deliver a new Master Plan" and he charged the administration with having "implemented no leadership effort whatsoever toward planning."

Mr. Bannan urged creation of a regional planning board, establishment of a regional planning information center to show "what catastrophes await us without planning" and formation of a Citizens Advisory Committee to "mobilize public awareness toward the threats of metropolitan density."

The North Carolina Fund is a private, non-profit foundation located in Durham, N.C. Funded by the Ford Foundation and two North Carolina-based foundations, it was established in 1963 to operate for five years, finding new ways to deal with poverty problems in the South.

Mr. Hartmann, 43, attended Phillips Academy and, in 1948, received a B.A. degree with honors in politics from Princeton University. He also did graduate work in political science at the University of Delaware.

From 1948 to 1952, he was acting headmaster at the Hun School. Prior to his calling to head Princeton Day Schools, he had served as headmaster for five years at St. Mark's School of Texas in Dallas.

LINKE RESIGNS

From Windsor Board, William R. Linke of Cranbury Road resigned from the West Windsor Board of Education on Monday. He is the third member of the nine-man board to resign since January.

Mr. Linke, board vice-president, cited in a letter the pressure of family and business affairs. He was elected in February 1964 for a three-year term.

A public meeting is set for 8 p.m. this Thursday in the Maurice Hawks School library to select a replacement. The new member will serve until the school elections in February.

The previous two resignations occurred when members moved out of the state for business reasons, Superintendent Frank Walton said.

In other business, the curriculum committee was asked to study a proposal by board member Michael Greshak to create an adult evening school program after the first of the year.

The board also agreed to re-study its ruling barring 3-year-olds from Pickerington.

In raising approximately $4,750, the annual rummage sale held by the Princeton Hospital Aid Committee topped all previous records. The old mark, slightly under $4,000 was collected in October, 1963.

JOINS LIGHT AGENCY

In Sales Capacity, Mrs. John C. Diehlenn, 50 Allison Road, has joined the K.M. Light Real Estate brokerage firm at 243 Nassau Street. Mrs. Diehlenn has been active in real estate sales here for the past 15 years.

A life-long resident of Princeton, Mrs. Diehlenn is the daughter of the late Henry G. D. Duffield, who for many years was treasurer of Princeton University. She attended Miss Finn's School and Oldfields School, Gloucester, Md.

Driver Charged. When Richard S. Federico, 293 Hamilton Avenue, attempted to turn from Witherspoon onto Spring Street at 2:40 Tuesday morning, he turned too soon, his car jumping the curb and knocking over a fire hydrant. He then continued on to a parking yard.

After parking his car in a nearby lot, he was later confronted at the Colonial Restaurant, Spring and Witherspoon Streets, by Sgt. Michael Carnevale to whom he reportedly admitted leveling the hydrant. Sgt. Carnevale ticketed him for careless driving.

Early Thursday evening, Mrs. Marjorie C. Baker, 60, 142 Mercer Street, and Richard H. Pendle, 39 of Trenton were slightly injured when their car, mired at the intersection of Stockton Street and Lovers Lane, both were treated at

THE ELEPHANT HEADS THE TICKET: Republican candidates for office in West Windsor Township pose with their mascot in a pre-election photograph. They are, left to right, Ronald MacPherson who is running for Tax Assessor, Ruth M. Flock, incumbent Tax Collector seeking re-election, Malcolm B. Rosel, mayor of West Windsor for the past five years, running for re-election to Township Committee; Albert M. Zigler, a member of the West Windsor Planning Board, for Township Committee; and Eli S. Princeton Hospital, Mrs. Baker for pains in her left knee and both hands and Mr. Pendle for lacerations of the leg, elbow and eye.
Mrs. Baker told Township police that she was turning left onto Lovers Lane and had seen the Pendle car approaching in the opposite direction but thought it was going to wait for her to make her turn. Mr. Pendle, in turn, said he thought Mrs. Baker was turning. Pt. Anthony Gaylord, the investigating officer, issued no charges.

Last Tuesday, William Powers 54, 68 Woodland Drive, received possible back and whiplash injuries, when his car was runned from behind on Route 206. The mishap occurred at 6:45 p.m.
The other driver, George L. Murphy, 18, 27 Railroad Place, Hopewell told Township police that he had seen Mr. Powers' rear light blinking, indicating a left turn onto Mansego Road, but his mind was on something other than his driving. The impact pushed the halted Powers car 127 feet forward into a private drive.
No tickets were issued by Sgt. Anthony Nini, and both cars continued on after the investigation.

In Hopewell Township Sunday, seven persons were in-

In one car were a couple from Haddonfield and their seven-year-old daughter. They were treated at Haddonfield Medical Center and released.
Four teen-age youths were in the second car, two from Philadelphia and two from Trenton. One was admitted to the Medical Center with a possible concussion, dislocated shoulder, cuts and bruises; the others were treated for minor injuries.

EAGLE AWARD MADE
At Trinity Church of Honor, Michael Reich received scouting's highest honor as he was advanced to the rank of Eagle Scout of Troop 50 last week at a Court of Honor held at Trinity Church.

At the same meeting, two new Tenderfoot Scouts were welcomed to the troop and seven Second Class, two First Class, four Star and four Life awards were made. In addition, 15 boys received merit badge awards and eight earned service awards.

HOW ABOUT HOUSING?
Borough Candidates Quizzed. "What should be done about middle-income housing?" Phrased in more formal language, this is the 1965 question asked by PAHR of six candidates for mayor and Council of the Borough.

The Borough must encourage good middle-income housing," replied Republican Mayor Henry S. Patterson, who is seeking election to his third term. "The old Witherspoon School and the Bannan property offer an excellent opportunity for low-density, reasonably priced housing. Working with other interested parties, the Borough should continue its search for a private sponsor for such a plan. The Borough planner will provide, in the next few months, the planning and economic facts of housing for middle-income families which will serve as a basis for specific plans."

"The present administration has made no proposals in the area of middle-income housing and will probably accept none

The Democratic candidate reported this proposal in reply to PAHR: "I have always been an advocate of a program to provide economical housing in the Princeton community for middle-income families. . . . It is obvious that private developers are not interested in the lesser return from middle income housing. It therefore appears that the Princeton Housing Authority will be required to become further involved in a study of this problem, leading to a recommendation addressed to Township Committee and Borough Council."

Nicholas J. Bartolino, Democratic candidate for mayor, and Joseph Bannan, the other Democratic candidate for Borough Council, endorsed Mr. Mula's plan.

William J. Walker, Republican candidate for re-election to Council, said in reply to PAHR: "I have always been an advocate of a program to provide economical housing in the Princeton community for middle-income families. . . . It is obvious that private developers are not interested in the lesser return from middle income housing. It therefore appears that the Princeton Housing Authority will be required to become further involved in a study of this problem, leading to a recommendation addressed to Township Committee and Borough Council."

Alfred E. Sorenson, also a Republican candidate for re-election to Council, said: "I agree that more good housing is needed for middle-income families, however, suitable lots in the Borough are practically non-existent and where they are available, the population density would be increased to an undesirable limit." Mr. Sorenson recommends that Township and Borough join and work through the Housing Authority.

BOUQUET PLANNED

By Hospital Auxiliary. The Women's Auxiliary of Princeton Hospital will sponsor a Christmas Bouquet to be held Tuesday and Wednesday, November 2-3, in the Prince William Room of the Nassau Inn. Hours will be from 10 to 6 p.m. Shops participating in the Bouquet include Abercrombie & Fitch, Lerer, Mark Cross and Masalov of New York City; Grandin's Toys of North Bedford, Vt.; The Horse of Wilmington, Del.; The Pear Tree of Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Folly Watson of Boston, Mass.; and Viola of Stoughton, Conn.

Mrs. Hithen Ziemer and Mrs. Sally S. Ely are co-chairmen of the affair. Those who will model clothes are Mrs. Ashton Harvey, Mrs. Bryze Thompson IV, Mrs. Hyman Battle, Mrs. John F. Murray, Mrs. William Dobson and Mrs. Charles Biddle.

CANDIDATES NIGHT SET

At Community Park. A candidates night meeting will be held Tuesday at 8 at Community Park School.

The Mercer County Council of the League of Women Voters will sponsor an open meeting during which candidates for Board of Chosen Freeholders, State Assembly and State Senate will give their views on pertinent issues. Questions will be invited from the public.

REVISED SHEETS READY

For Mercer County Voters. Newly revised non-partisan election information sheets are being distributed according to the League of Women Voters of Mercer County. The new edition on candidate biographies and platforms was necessitated by errors and omissions in the original sheets issued last week.

Voters served by the Princeton Post Office should be sure to get the new sheet reading "Amended" or "Revised." Approximately 600 copies of the erroneous edition went to Lawrenceville and northern Lawrence Township.

YWCA FESTIVAL PLANNED

BOOK LEAD PLANNED

At Chapin School. The first Chapin School book fair will be held on Monday through Thursday at the school on Mercer Road near Providence line.

The first two days will be for browsing. Sales will be held in the craft room on Tuesday evening — annual Parents' Night — as well as Wednesday and Thursday. Books are being supplied by the Princeton Book Store and will cover categories for all ages: children's stories, best sellers, science fiction, non-fiction reference and so on.

The book fair is under the organization and direction of the William Laffand, a former Chapin teacher. She is being assisted by Mrs. Albert English, Mrs. Oliver Houghton, Mrs. John H. Rosen, Mrs. George Young and Mrs. David Riley.

A short PTA meeting and a classroom tour will follow. Parents will be able to discuss their child's curriculum for the year with his teachers.

CAR SET ON FIRE

Police Think Deliberately. Late Monday afternoon, Princeton police received a call reporting a fire in the rear section of a station wagon parked in the Princeton Hospital lot on Franklin Avenue. It was extinguished by members of the hospital staff before the police arrived. Damage to the car was reported slight.

Chief Peter J. McCrohan said that there was evidence that an inflammable liquid—probably gasoline or kerosene—had been used by someone in a deliberate attempt to set the car on fire. It is being investigated by Ptl. Douglas Watson.

The station wagon, a 1965 model, is owned by Lloyd Uddel, 229 Maryland Avenue, Ponca Neck. On Sunday, Edward H. Eckfeldt Jr., 97 Bayard Lane, called police to report the theft of a spare tire and wheel from

Leave Those Leaves

Borough leaf-rakers have been asked by Borough Hall to pile leaves between sidewalk and curb for collection, and not under any circumstances, to shove them into the gutter.

Leaves in the gutter are a safety hazard because children will play in leaf-piles regardless of what mothers tell them and serious accidents can result. Leaves are collected once a week on a schedule available from Borough Hall.

Also, the season of garbage-collection problems is at hand. Householders should use tight containers with water-tight tops to keep kee from forming inside the garbage can.

Why do you want to keep the garbage in the house if it is so bad? Because it holds in the garbage, the garbage is therefore not decanted into the truck but left in the open can, dogs get into it and you know what dogs do with garbage.

his car which had been parked on S. Stanworth Drive. Mr. Eckfeldt told police the theft took place sometime during the week before but he had not noticed it until he returned later. He did not place a value on the tire, police said.

MEN'S CLUB TO MEET

At Jewish Center. The Men's Club of the Jewish Center will hold its first meeting of the season next Monday at 8:30 at the Center. Both non-members and members are welcome.

There will be an informal program designed to give an opportunity for getting acquainted. Tables for cards, chess and checkers will be available, and refreshments will be served.

WARNING FALSE AND MISLEADING INFORMATION ABOUT FLUORIDATION IS BEING DISTRIBUTED IN PRINCETON

A FEW OF THE DISTORTIONS AND HALF TRUTHS BEING SPREAD ABOUT FLUORIDATION ARE DEBUNKED BELOW.

UNAUTHORIZED USE OF NAMES! The names of two Princeton physicians are listed as sponsors of an anti-fluoridation statement being distributed by the Citizens' Water Committee (CWC). Neither man has given permission for the use of his name, neither has taken a stand against fluoridation. (Letters to the Editor, Sept. 22.)

SWEDEN — Cited as having halted fluoridation. The CWC, however, ignores the fact that fluoridation was reinstituted, after being halted in 1961, due to a legal technicality, with the full APPROVAL OF HUGO THEORELL, M.D., winner of the Nobel Prize in Medicine for his work in ENZYME CHEMISTRY.

CLAIMS THAT THE AMA DOES NOT SUPPORT FLUORIDATION! The AMA has repeatedly endorsed and supported fluoridation and will send to anybody requesting it a copy of its favorable stand.

FALSE CLAIMS OF HARM TO HEALTH OF OLDER AND ILL PEOPLE! The CWC would have you believe that older people are harmed by fluoridated water. THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON DISEASES OF THE ELDERLY AND CHRONICALLY ILL, among other investigatory groups, states that fluoridation is SAFE for people of ALL age groups in ALL conditions of health.

CLAIMS OF VIOLATION OF RIGHTS! No superior court, including the Supreme Court of the United States, has ever ruled against fluoridation. The decisions handed down in these cases include the following: It is neither illegal nor an improper exercise of government power. It is not an infringement of individual constitutional rights nor an invasion of the right of freedom of religion. It is not an illegal practice of medicine nor a violation of state or federal health laws.

CLAIMS THAT LOCAL BOARDS OF HEALTH ARE NOT ACTUALLY LEGAL WHEN ORDERING FLUORIDATION! Section V of Minimum Standards of Performance for Local Health Departments in N. J. states, "Local Boards of Health are required to promote controlled adjustment of public water supplies to the optimum protective level of 1 ppm."

An Estate to Match Your Dreams

MANOR HOUSE . . . this superb old Colonial dwelling is one of those places that everyone who dreams of living in the country would like to own. Only twelve minutes from Princeton, in real farming territory, it stands under magnificent shade trees, behind the long driveway that curves up to the front door. Inside, the beautiful living and dining rooms, the cozy paneled library, the very modern kitchen, the delightful game room with its bar, and its 6 bedrooms and 4 baths — all this lives up to the promise of gracious living which strikes you when you first glance the place. You know that it must have plenty of land for privacy, and it does — 33 acres approximately . . . But you get the surprise of your life when you stroll out of the living room and into the indoor swimming pool annex. An octagonal structure 60 feet in diameter, it has a heated pool large enough for a blation to splash in, and a vast expanse of flagstones with plenty of room to entertain all the guests you can think of. (Sole Agent) $119,500.

News Of The THEATRES

"CORIOLANUS" OPENS Second in Series. This seems to be the season for detachment at McCarter Theatre.

After a "Mother Courage" in which we watched with interest to see how a young actress would manage the role and how a director would manage a breast, but in which we never became emotionally involved, we now see a "Coriolanus" which leaves us in an equivalent state of detachment.

"Coriolanus" is very late Shakespeare, long after "Hamlet" and the great tragedies. It is a rigid, metallic sort of play, full of talk and of faces. Coriolanus—well, it's hard to see one way or another about him. Do we feel sympathy for him in his troubles? Very little. Do we, on the contrary, despise him? Not particularly. Do we care when he topples from the highest of his place in a bloody heap? Not much.

Brought up by his mother to be proud, full of honor and valor, Coriolanus comes home from the wars a Roman hero. He is pressed to become a Consul, but is repelled by the idea of appearing before the mob, as custom demands, in the traditional robe of humility, displaying the battle scars for the approval of the rabble. He does so, but with poor grace. Eventually, his balky pride and contempt for "the people" drive the mob to declare him a traitor to the republic and to banish him, and in one of the play's most high-dramatic scenes he turns contemptuously on the mob and spits out, "I banish YOU!" In revenge, he joins with his hated enemy, Aufidius, to march on Rome but at the city gates, he is persuaded by his mother to spare the city and in the end, he is destroyed by his enemy.

A Museum Piece, Coriolanus is rather like an exhibit in musium. We can walk around him, examine his facets and express some curiosity about his construction. We can make Freudian observations about his relationship with his mother. We can observe his pride and passion, his human loneliness as an exile. We are that he is vengeful. As modern dignitaries, we can discuss his contempt for the people.

But we never have a chance to see inside into the core, as we do with Hamlet, Macbeth or Iago. This, perhaps, is one reason why "Coriolanus" is not often performed; once you've seen the man, you have no particular interest in meeting him again.

This is the production of "Coriolanus" that Arthur Lithgow directed this summer in Ohio. Mr. Lithgow is a good director and this is a good job (with one exception, and it's all touched on that in a minute).

Mr. Lithgow has assembled a wild and swirling rabble, and succeeds in making you think of hundreds where there are only two dozen. He is constantly concerned with making a lanky play move, and so he uses plenty of sound effects, theatrical blood the sizzle of a cauterized wound and a two-level set with stairways.

Good Directorial Touches. He has some nice touches. Coriolanus falls to his knees at his mother's feet after he surrenders Rome to her and batters his head repeatedly against her womb as he sobs. "Oh mother, mother, what have you done?" Oh, my another mother! In earlier scenes, Mr. Lithgow has him hold his mother's hand. He has Coriolanus, in brilliant, unrelieved drama, shed his Roman armor, like a shy girl, cover his bare torso with his crossed arms to keep the rabble from seeing his scars.

Larry Linville is strong, believable Coriolanus. If he speaks his lines with a certain

HERE TODAY, GONE TOMORROW. Lila Kadrava, as a fading French coquette, and Anthony Quinn as Alexis Zorba, daily with romance in the film version of Nikos Kazantzakis' classic novel, "Zorba the Greek," which starts Friday at the Playhouse.

And this brings us to that little directing flaw we mentioned earlier: many of the actors in this production are almost impossible to understand, even from those good seats they give the press.

Gregory Abeln has a vital role as First Citizen because he is the soldier in the first scene but his diction is absolutely dreadful. He is so overcome with shouting and screaming — apparently in an effort to relieve his mouth of the hot potato in it — that he simply cannot be understood at all. Other "Citizens" are equally difficult, and even some of the major actors.

"At Home in His Role." Mr. Lafayette, however, is all clarity. He is a good actor, he is well-acted as the haughty Roman, he is at home in the role. Volturna, his mother, is Ruby Holbrook, and Ernest Roman, matron of them all, in a flame red toga. She is an actress who can project great emotion and in this role, she does so without the histrionics that have sometimes characterized her interpretations. She is, in fact, rather formal in her approach.

Emery Battle, that swagging old friend, is logged out this time like a stinking barbarian, with rings in his ears and a fright wig, portraying Auludius as though he were a Nibelung dwarf. Well, he brings the proceedings some color and a little action, anyhow.

The set by Barbara Miller and Clyde W. Biskley, has a platform, two lights of stairs and some nicely-shown chains to make a backdrop. No nonsense about it.

"Try 'Cocaine' if you want to add a play to your Shakespeare collection, but be prepared to go home with all your emotions intact!" —KATHARINE BRETNALL

"MAJOR BARRABA"
Third in Series: Two actors well-known to McCartor players will appear in Shaw's "Major Barbara," third production in the Film Drama Series. Emery Battle will play the munitions magnate Andrew Underhaft and Ruby Holbrook will be his wife, Lady Brimarm.

The Shaw drama will open Friday, October 29, at 8:30 in McCartor.

The title role will be played by Ann Gae Byrd, who was the camp-following Yvette in "Mother Courage." Other roles will be assumed by Ed Bordo (young Stephen Underhaft), Gregory Abeln (Charles Lomax), Charles Glick (Henry David Byrd (Adolphus Custino)), and Eve Johnson as the aged Emmy Mitchell. Marie Stettin is the director.

The repertory schedule: "Mother Courage" — October 22 and 23; "Coriolanus" — October 21 and 23; "Major Barbara" — October 30, November 4 and November 12.

"An Enemy of the People" — will open November 13, and will play again November 18, and 19.

CANADIANS COMING
Ballet to Perform. Dancers of the Royal Winnipeg Ballet will open the Princeton Ballet Society's dance series with an appearance in McCartor Theatre Sunday, October 21 at 8.

The company of 50, including soloists, ensemble and orchestra, will present a new ballet, "Ames-vous back," the famous pas de deux from "Don Quixote." "The Bitter Wind," choreographed by Agnes DeMille to melodies from Briggaton and a finale, "Les Whinnies-de-Don."

Reviewers have praised the Winnipeggers for "youth, boldness, exuberance and unusual skill" and have characterized the company as "so joyous to watch."

The "Royal" was conferred upon the company by Queen Elizabeth in 1933 following a command performance.

The second Ballet Society presentation will be the Robert Joffrey Ballet on January 16 and the Regional Ballet on May 14. Subscriptions are available. (Continued on page 25)

IT'S NEW To Us

WHAT'S THAT SMELL?

 Incense. Spend a rainy afternoon this fall browsing among the best scents and the jade carriages at The Orient Shop (the one that used to be the Kung Ping) on Witherspoon Street. Bet you can't come away without having bought something!

We're always fascinated by the canned goods corner way in the back, although we're not quite sure whether one serves bean cakes with broiled eels, or whether shaved fish go in to soup or under a broiler. We do know about spiced Chinese ginger, though: delicious!

In this tiny shop, Chinese by ownership, but filled with all kinds of things with far eastern point of origin, you have to look slowly and with care or you'll miss something. Did you see the notepaper, bridge tables and gift cards with delicate flowers and birds painted on them in the Chinese manner? How about the package of nine matchboxes met together in Chinese puzzle fashion, each matchbox covered with a brilliant paper design? We like the pink and turquoise and the three black discs against red.

The cigarette box next to the matches might be a lacquer one; many of Orient Shop's lacquer pieces are exquisite. Smooth and without adornment except for their own brilliant color, these lacquered bowls and trays are handsome and useful.

Look at the gold discs (trays, really); hold in your hand the lacquered spheres of black, red or yellow and take the top hemisphere off to see the waiting "dots" within. These spherical boxes range in size from a small bowling ball to a softball to a large tennis ball, if there is such a thing.

For $4, you may have a pair of teak slab bookends filled with stones to give weight and for $7.95, you may take home a shallow not bowl in dark wood with brass nut-chamber placed permanently into its middle. (Cook's will pay $1.25 for a garlic squeezer.)

Orient Shop has always stocked a line of perfectly plain white china which can be equalled for the home-maker with taste and no money to spend. Only $1 for a straight-sided coffee cup and saucer, for example.

There are tall, straight teapots, a tiny coffee pot, like a child's, for demitasse. And there are a set of silver-plated cruet, salt and pepper shaped like hard-boiled eggs and a tiny white pot for mustard, all on a round dark wood tray.

File your autumn fruit in a straight sided laminated teak basket with a brass handle. Price tag is $9.95.

MATCH YOUR STRIDE

 To Your Pulse. Yes, shoes and bag match this fall at the Donna Shop, 96 Nassau. Natural linen or burlap complements with leather for classic spectators or even loafers, echoed in the bag you swing from your hand.

Other bags follow a different road. Here's a dark olive suede pouch, deeply colored with a tanner collar of olive pebble grained leather. Here's another, a wonderful leather that looks like horsehide, it's that sturdy with a handle which goes through brass circle eyelets. It zips shut and has a zipper pocket inside, and on the outside is a separate saddle-bag of a pouch, big enough for two packs of king-size cigarettes.

Capses are in and on for fall. The Loden West Germans send their olive cap piped with black and topped with a turn-over collar, and its twin in tomato-sauce red edged with white.

A brief souffle of mohair and nylon is just a light-weight circle of bright plaid stopping short of the hip. Slide hand through black-banded slits and flaunt the black fringe around the edge. Comes in solid green or camel, too, both with black, $25.

You don't think wool stops at the ankle, do you? Donna shows wool plaid boots in dusty rose windowpane check, or teal blue creased with gold. Solid heathery rose, blue or green is good for a wool boot, too. But if you're conventional and want leather, here's camel made or soft black calf. All these zip from heel right up to the back.

Separates have come together all over the shop. Blues and red make the plaid for jumper, skirt, jacket and slacks. The shirt is powder blue cotton with its own ascot and there's a red, red wool vest to bring it all off in a flash of color.

Heather match - mates, in skirts and cardigans, are soft coral, deeply antiqued gold or a wonderful autumn smoky blue. Some skirts are as soft

Which Witch? It's terribly "out" of course, to be a witch for Halloween. Anybody who is anybody is one-eyed monster, a flaxen-haired princess or a real one for the mask-marked image of Bobby Kennedy.

At Hinkson's, on a midnight raid not long ago, we settled for a pair of eye-sockets two inches long (they can be used next year as a statue), some black vampire fingernails (most of the small vampires we know have black fingernails already) and a set of fangs (how in the dark but you have to brush them after every meal).

Hinkson's is also a good place for remembering that we have black formal (already) and a set of fangs (how in the dark but you have to brush them after every meal).

The sweaters, others are checked off, like the gold and teal that goes with the antique fold sweater. Speaking of sweaters, run your eye along the row of turtles, all in a ribbed wool knit. Deep cherry, olive, tawny, blazing white, chocolate brown, infinite versatility.

But all it's not trendy-weirdy at Donna. A black theatre suit, definitive as a third-century curtain, is trumpet brocade with lined cast in street-length princess style, and a sleeveless sheath beneath. Absolutely plain and the most wonderful back-drop for your brightest jewelry. $70. Another is emerald brocade with blue highlights. The coat is mandarin style, the dress a simple sheath. The most unusual crew-neck dress at Donna's is a good old gray flannel sheath, sleeveless, with a pop-over of gray lace worn camisole style. Know an ash blonde?

from the Princeton Ballet Society, Box 171, Princeton.
Individual tickets to the Royal Winnipeg appearance are on sale at the McCarter box office, Box 526, Princeton.

IT'S JUDY

At midweek, Judy Collins, who used to be piano soloist with the Denon Businessmen's Symphony and put her first job as professional entertainer in 1959 at Michael's Pub in Boulder, Colorado, will play Princeton this Friday as the second "Wintidit Special" in McCarter's late night series.

A folk-singer with a guitar twice her size and a voice twice bigger and deeper than the guitar, Miss Collins has appeared on the "Hootenanny" series, at the Newport folk festival, at Chicago's Gate of Horn and on recordings.

TO SHOW FINNEY FILM

"Saturday Night" The film that gave Albert Finney his first major role, "Saturday Night and Sunday Morning" will be shown in McCarter at 8 p.m. Tuesday as the second "International Film."

The 1961 British Film Academy Awards for Best Picture, Best Actor (Rachael Roberts) and Most Promising Newcomer (Finney).

PLAYHOUSE

La Bohème (now playing) The La Scala Opera Company comes to Princeton on film (and in Technicolor). Utilizing newly-developed sound techniques, the complete musical range of Puccini's great opera is captured on film for the first time in an exact photographic reproduction of the La Scala performance.

Zorba the Greek (starts Friday). This is a fine drama of a man who took life as it came and loved it. Anthony Quinn is excellent in the title role. The screen play, based on the novel by Nikos Kazantzakis, is episodic and sometimes seems plot-heavy. But most of the action is absorbing.

The first meeting of the writer (played by Alan Bates) and the lovely, inhibited Greek is set off with economy and wit in a wonderfully well-played scene. The relationship of these two forms the core of the entire film.

Other strong and likeable characters include Irene Pappas, as the handsome widow who spurs the advances of a village youth, but succumbs to Bates; and Lila Kedrova, who almost steals the film in the role of a French innkeeper out to snare Zorba.

The writer-director, Michael Cacoyannis, has imaginatively used the natural settings of Crete for atmosphere and never for mere decoration. The musical score is reminiscent of "Never on Sunday."

GARDEN

The Hill (continues Tuesday) Sean Connery steps out of his James Bond series for a change-of-pace film, which recounts a grim and brutal story of life in an English military stockade in North Africa. Connery is a warlike officer, court-martialed for striking an officer and for alleged cowardice under fire. He is brought with four other prisoners to a military hell hole, where a sadistic guard is assumed to break their spirit. The method centers on a huge, man-made hill of rock and sand. The prisoners are forced to double-time up and down the hill in the broiling sun carrying full packs. When the weakest of the newcomers dies, the pace of the film steps up nearly beyond endurance.

British soldiers have been subjected to harsh treatment in past war films, either by Japanese commanders or Nazi interrogators, but they have never looked so tortured as in "The Hill," where the torturers are fellow Englishmen. The movie takes one of the sharpest swipes at the military mentality in the history of the cinema. An uncompromising and bitter expose, it is unlikely that the British army cooperated in its production. "The Hill" is based on the play by Roy Richards and N. S.

Spook Show Series

Thirsty for a sip of Rh negative? Bait in McCarter Theatre at 8 p.m. Wednesday, October 27, for "Mark of the Vampire" and "The Body Snatcher," a pair of Halloween tales. Considered by what McCarter calls a "spine tingling double chiller."

This is McCarter's third annual Halloween trick and treat. The lineups will be Boris Karloff and Bela Lugosi for "The Body Snatcher" and Lionel Barrymore and friend Lugosi in "Mark of the Vampire." Galsie will be served between features in case you're dry-mouthed with the sheer terror of it all.

Allen. All performances are first rate, and Sidney Lumet's direction makes the audience share the dread and despair of the soldiers.

PRINCE

The Pawnbroker (thru Tues.) This is a story of a man numbered by his past who learns that he cannot escape involvement with humanity.

Rod Steiger is a German refugee who operates a pawnshop in Spanish Harlem. A flashback technique evokes his "remained memories" in his elementary matches; he had watched his children die in a concentration camp, he had seen his wife violated by Nazi officers. A social worker in the area played by Geraldine Fitzgerald, tries to get him to open up, but she is rebuffed. Only his young Puerto Rican assistant, Jaime Sanchez, senses the man under the unfeeling exterior.

The drama that unfolds is truly adult. It has been granted a Production Code seal despite scenes of nudity. Rod Steiger captures every nuance of an extremely difficult characterization. His control is absolute, and as a result, the dramatic intensity of the film never less to.

BUT NOT TOO DEEP Did? They're very patient with newcomers in Nursery in Pennington, and they will tell you that the heavy, clay-like soil of Princeton et al., is nothing like the rich loam of Holland, so for goodness' sake, don't plant your fall bulbs too deep. Read up on the pamphlets and garden pages with a wary eye, and look off an inch or two in measuring bulb depth.

You have until the end of November to do your planting, but the sooner you get the bulbs in, the more chance they have to develop roots and to out-bloom all your neighbors next spring.

This very minute you could strew bone meal on top of all the established bulb plantings.

in your yard. Meal makes itself available slowly, so the bulbs will be amply fed by next spring.

What are we planting? Well, tulips, always. Howe has a big cultip following, not only for your old friend the Red Emperor, but also for "Artist," the green and orange newcomer. (Yes! Green and orange!) and for "Greenland" in green and pink.

Anemone Blands, the three-inch purple bloomer is somewhat different for your garden, and so is its cousin, St. Bridget, the colorful double mixed anemone. Grow them in semi-shade, $2.15 for 25.

Clumps of Dutch Iris are delicate in spring. Howe suggests Professor Blaauw (purple) or Dandfordise (yellow). Dutch Iris bloom closely enough together in point of time so that you can plant them close together in your garden.

The delicate species crocus, creamy or white, would be a nice foil for the usual brilliant varieties. Bright blue Chinodora or yellow Beatrix Blum are great for spring, and so are the species tulips. Those short-stemmed beauties with their brilliant reds and yellows. But spring is far behind; for bloom this very autumn, plant Colchicums and fall-flowering crocus, and de it today!

"Mischief Night" Questioned.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
With someone please tell me what misguided individual or group ever thought up "Mischief Night"? And what possible meaning does "Trick or Treat" have on Halloween if itself when all the damage has been done the night before?

How much more fun we have as children, I think, when on Halloween we approached neighbors' houses — some familiar, some strange — with our soap or other friendly pieces in hand and a real threat on our lips. It was really "Trick or Treat!" And we did always find some crusty individual who sent us packing so we could creep back and take our satisfying (but scarcely harmless) revenge.

My children ask me if they may go out on Mischief Night. Now why should I — or anyone — for that matter — encourage them to go out and play tricks, serious or trivial, on people for no reason at all? Don't we have enough mischief already in the form of vandalism?

It is likely that few children can do any real harm; rather, though I remember the misbehavior of one little one who had beautifully carved pumpkins as before he could light the candles, but the philosophy behind the whole thing escapes me. I can think of it only as a public nuisance that can at times get quite out of control.

Very Varied Viewpoints.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We held opposite views in the recent referendum but I think we can agree to meet and renew old friendships. However, the traffic on 206 was a heavy and constantly about, we could barely get out of the driveway.

Our friends in western Princeton were all busy at meetings protesting I-95, and when we attempted to see those on the eastern end of town, we were bogged down with Nassau Street traffic and nearly buried in the final 15th layer of concrete.

We resolved to have a sit-down strike, but were informed that loitering on the Firestone wall was not permissible. We couldn't even hold a teach-in at Palmer Stadium, for the only thing being kicked around there was a pigskin.

A cocktail party seemed the ideal solution until it was ruined that floridly ruined the highballs. We couldn't even find our friends, for they had protested merchandising by phone and de-listed their numbers. But where there's a will, there's a way. We'd like the planning boards to divert Lake Carnegie down Nassau Street. It would boost the hotel and water ski business, eliminate many overtime parking tickets, and get us all in the swim for happily united community.

Republicans Are Two-Faced.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Republican release in last week's papers, questioning the Democratic state's courage and determination because Mr. Bartolino refused to take a public stand on the question of school reorganization. One wonders how silly our opponents can get.

First, let's clear Messrs. Barton and Minis from the discussion, because they did issue a statement — a strong statement — in favor of merger and this was carried in the papers of the week of 22 September. Indeed, Mr. Barton, independently and weeks before that, wrote a public letter stating clearly how he stood. So how can they now be said to lack courage on that score? I am not aware, and I have credit for it, said it was ridiculous and impossible.

Despite the pressure of his running mates, Mr. Bartolino believed a candidate for public office should remain publicly silent from the school merger issue. I think he was wrong, but I respected his right to his own views and admired his steadfastness in them.

The Republicans can't have it both ways. If it was right for them to remain silent, how is it wrong for Mr. Bartolino to have done so? If it was right for Mr. Barton and Mr. Minis to have spoken out, why did the Republican candidates for Council remain silent?

Help George Out.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

If we truly have had a minor revolution here in Princeton Borough, let us not sit back now moaning or pitying ourselves on the back. That is how revolutions are won in name only and look in actual fact.

It is from this time on, our responsibility to see to it that those who represent us are given a fair opportunity to evaluate and reflect the wishes of all of us.

Decisions are being made constantly by our elected officials, in meetings OPEN TO THE PUBLIC. Grousing to your family or neighbors are not enough. Honesty and direct questions to the people in office, about issues which are of concern to you, show them the directions in which to search for answers.

We must not let our interest flag now. This is the beginning, not the end. Participation by YOU in public meetings is a basic requirement to a job well done by the man in office.

The real enemy of the Democratic system is not John Birchism or Communism or any other Ism, it is apathy. The richly spiteful society of "let George do it society" is the only one which can be taken over by some small, extreme Ism because the Ism is more than happy to relieve George and do all the work.

I am NOT suggesting that any such thing has happened here but I AM saying that I and many others have forced the burden of decision on too few Georges for too long. Voting for public officials is not enough. They need your continuing support, not only in person, if they are to function as true representatives of all the people.

RUTH FOX
35 Hamilton Avenue

Progress Evaluated.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The claims to accomplishment of Borough Republican candidates, in their publicity handouts last week, only brought smiles of wry amusement to all those who created the unimpressive achievements on the list. That list included:

The Dilley Report. For 30 months the mountain was in labor to bring forth the mouse. Most of its conclusions are as obvious as the nose on a Republican elephant's face. Others are inadequate or evasive.

There are exceptions of course, because Boards of Education cannot be reduced to sub-committee status. Fire Sewer and Recreation already serve both Princeton's equality: joint Borough-Township planning was proposed by Democratic Mayor Minot C. Morgan in 1947. And so forth. The real Republican achievement was to waste so much time for so many people.

And if evidence of political orientation is needed, look at an earlier Dilley Report, published on 20 October 1961 in a paid Republican ad entitled "Clash with Pat." Here is that Dilley Report in its entirety:

"(Mr. Dilley): I am considering moving from Stockton Street because of the trucks which go by my house 24 hours a day. What can you do to rid our streets of these monsters? It gets worse every year.

A. (Mr. Patterson): I intend to persuade the State to give top priority to the construction of the major by-pass, Route 206-A so that the Borough and your peace of mind will not be ruined. I will substitute action for words. (As a result of the Mayor's action, or lack of it, Mr. Dilley moved.)

The start of a new public library. For five or six years, the non-partisan Friends of the Public Library has striven to show the need and produce results. It must come as something of a surprise to that public-spirited organization that the present administration really did the job.

What happened, of course, was that the Friends of the Library provided vigorous leadership, and the administration responded to public pressure and political expediency.

Acquisition of Open Space. Ever since the Green Acres Program was initiated, groups of citizens have been urging participation in conjunction with recreational expansion.

The administration merely ed by PAIRH and others, have made innumerable surveys of the need. The need. Gottlieb, Township Democratic candidate, led in the battle for 10 or eleven years. Mayor Bannan and Bannan, Borough Democratic candidates, have both taken active part. Where was Republican "leadership" then? Dragging its feet.

What is the administration's record in areas requiring political leadership? Where is...

To the Editor of Town Topics:
The "rebellion" in Brecht's going and which forces even a

Trapped she may be by a system which requires war to keep it going, but she is a full participant. "I must get back into business," she says, meaning her business of selling goods to soldiers and making what profit she can.

Mother Courage may shout
"Curse the war!" at one, isolated point, but she never rebels. It is Brecht himself who rebels. Part of his message is that, for the single, lone in-

in the hierarchy as Mother Courage, rebellion is absolutely impossible.

How To Care For Your Carpet

Carpet is a beautiful addition to your home. It represents an important investment in living pleasure. With reasonable care and attention, your carpet will provide years of satisfactory performance.

Every 12 to 18 months, depending upon wear and traffic, your carpet should be cleaned professionally, to remove deeply embedded soil that ordinary home cleaning methods cannot reach.

We are qualified to service your carpet needs. We have the proper equipment, technique and experience required to help keep your carpets new looking longer.

Man from Missouri

To the Editor of Town Topics:
There were three letters in the Town Topics last week from medical professionals, written in support of fluoridation.
With reference to the issue of the safety of sodium fluoride in the water supply, which is the most important issue, they advance the following, as I understand it:

1. Fluoridation has been proven safe.

2. There are no reported cases of fluoride poisoning from fluoridated drinking water.

We are also told that there is no proof that fluoridation is safe, but that proof is only referred to, not given substantively. So, from their letters, it appears that the proof that fluoridation is safe depends on the second point.
Let's consider, then, that the proof of the safety of fluoridation rests on the fact that it is a fact, that there are no had effects traceable to sodium fluoride in the water supply. This means that there is no clinical evidence anywhere of fluoride poisoning
dated drinking water.

But it is illogical to use these facts as proof in this way. Just because there is no evidence of had effects of sodium fluoride in the drinking water we must not assume that there are no had effects.
This confuses facts with perception.

It is quite possible that the damage is subclinical, or otherwise imperceptible, simply because the continuous dosage is so small, and that perceptible damage will appear among a complex of symptoms, or be contributory to a specific degenerative or infectious disease with a specific name and an obscure cause. Ten years ago, how many cases of lung cancer were ascribed to cigarette smoking?

It makes sense to suspect
sodium fluoride because.

1. It is a highly poisonous chemical. Your doctor, dentist or pharmacist will confirm this. The point is it is not supposed to be poisonous any more in small continuous doses.

2. It effects biological changes in our bodies at the recommended dosage — it has to, or it could not render the teeth so dramatically safe from decay. We have no reason to assume that the changes will all be as good, or as immediately noticeable.

There is only one way out.
Sodium fluoride in the recommended dosage must be proven harmless to the human system. As long as it is not so proven, we have every reason to suspect it, and keep from our supply. If there is proof, I would like to see it, and not just hear about it.

An editor's note on last as having been "raided." We understand this was not the case. The PAIR Executive

to the use of housing covenants signatures, but the informa-

What to do about obscene or harassing phone calls

We are very concerned about these calls. Should you receive any, the following guidelines provide a very effective way for you to stop them:

1. Hang up—if the caller does not say anything.
 —at the first obscene word.
 —if the caller does not identify himself to your satisfaction.

Remember, you are in control of your phone. You can end any conversation simply by hanging up.

2. Don't keep talking to the caller—what he really wants is an audience. Don't be that audience.

By keeping these hints in mind, you can usually discourage someone from continuing to call you. If the calls do persist, call your Telephone Business Office. We have representatives who are trained to investigate, identify, and help in the apprehension of these callers.

NOTE: New Jersey laws provide up to ONE YEAR IN PRISON AND A $1000 FINE to anyone making lewd, obscene, or disgusting remarks on the telephone, or who repeatedly telephones a person for the purpose of molesting or annoying that person.

Why I Plan to Vote REPUBLICAN DEMOCRATIC

By Elizabeth A. McClelland

By John D. Davies

As the Princeton Township will have a very easy choice this coming Election Day, I am sure that many of our citizens are one of the loveliest of communities. This is a large town in all aspects of Township of the recreation we enjoy ship affairs and has worked living here. I think we should particularly hard in the field vote to continue the kind of government that has helped make our town the Princeton Plan, a progressive government that has provided it can anticipate and meet the community's changing needs.

I think, therefore, any truly concerned citizen should vote Republican — to re-elect Mayor Carl Schafer and to bring Burton Peskin to a seat on Township Committee.

Under Mayor Schafer, and the Republican administrations that preceded his, Princeton Township has prepared for the future as it has solved the countless problems of the present. Our town has won the sound planning and zoning policies of recent years; Mayor Schafer and the other members of the Committee are right now preparing to adopt another far-reaching Master Plan that will provide intelligent, orderly growth for years to come.

In the area of recreation, I feel the Republican record is especially noteworthy. Not content simply to dig a small swimming hole in the ground to satisfy the immediate needs of a few, the Committee, with the Borough, established the Recreation Commission. I have thoroughly considered the broader needs of our growing community.

As a result, the Commissioners recommended a whole recreational complex, including Olympic — size pools, tennis courts, and other facilities, which all will be pleased and proud. The Committee has already accepted the recommendations, and our pools and courts will be completed for use this coming summer.

Considering the many accomplishments of our Township government, I find it remarkable that our local tax rate for both last year and this year actually decreased. This is evidence of sound fiscal planning and management. Carl Schafer, as a Committeeman and now as Mayor, has been a mainstay of our governing body. His intimate knowledge of the Township and its people, and his devotion to serving his towns have been proved. We are grateful that so able and willing a man is standing for election.

Burton Peskin, though newer to our community, has a long record of service in the public good throughout Mercer County. As a member of the town, his legal training, will give him a valuable contribution to the Committee as it deals with the increasingly complex matters affecting our future. I believe an outstanding job of service recognition. We can each show approval of our progressive government on Election Day by voting for Carl Schafer and Burton Peskin.

Topics Of The Town

the ratification of the United Nations charter in 1945 and his 20th year, he has been designated International Cooperation Year by the UN General Assembly. To celebrate, the League of Women Voters of Haverhill Valley is offering U. N. stamps plus copies of a booklet, "The U. N. and the L. V. N." Many U. N. stamps are highly valued by collectors and some are very rare.

For this occasion, the L. V. N. is making a special offer of a sheet, issued for one day on Christmas Eve, and another on June 1 in June by the U. N. post office. Also being offered are $1, $3 and $5 assortments. The booklet and the stamps are

I should like to endorse the candidacy of Melvin Gottlieb for Princeton Township Committee. Over the years he has demonstrated continuing interest in all aspects of Township of the recreation we enjoy ship affairs and has worked living here. I think we should particularly hard in the field vote to continue the kind of government that has helped make our town the Princeton Plan, a progressive government that has provided it can anticipate and meet the community's changing needs.

Three years ago he organized a citizens' pool committee. Soon after that he was appointed to the joint Borough-Township Citizens Advisory Committee.

In 1937-8 he was chairman of the Recreation Committee. In 1937-8 he was chairman of the Township Planning Board concerned with the adoption of the new Township Master Plan. In recent years he has been chairman of the Township Recreation Commission which developed plans for the new community park and has worked for years with both the Township Committee and Borough Council. In negotiations which were finally successfully culminated in the adoption of plans for the park and the appointment of a new body to carry out the plan.

A dedicated man with broad concerns for the welfare of the community, Dr. Gottlieb is a member of the Princeton Committee of the Mercer County Child Guidance Clinic. He is on the Board of the Council of Community Services, he is a former member of the Governor's Radiation Protection Committee, and he belongs to P.A.H.R. (The Princeton Association on Iluman Health).

He is the director of the Plasma Physics Laboratory, a $35,000,000 research center supported by a several million-dollar a-year budget. Although himself a distinguished experimental physicist and professor of the Astro physical Sciences, he must preside may be obtained Saturday from 9 to 1 at the Old Mill Square, directly across Delaware Avenue from the Pennington Market. Orders may be sent by mail to P.O. Box 82, Pennington.

GIVE TO UNICEF

And Feed A Hungry Child. This Halloween night, Princeton school children in grades three through eight will join over three million others throughout the country to knock on your door and ask for contributions to UNICEF — United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

Just one penny dropped into the orange and black collection cartons will protect a sickly child from starvation. A nickel will provide 25 starving youngsters with a large supply of food. The UNICEF goal of $2,000 million of needy children.

A committee of teenagers is being organized to help. Each child will be assigned to a teenage captain living on his own block, but before he is allowed to collect, his parents will be asked to sign a permission slip.

BROWNS FIND SPONSOR

In West Windsor, Mrs. Wallace Brown, president of the Princeton Junior League, Women's Auxiliary, of the Fire Company, has announced that the group will sponsor a new Brownie Scout troop in the West Windsor Old Scout neighborhood.

Leader of the new troop will be Mrs. Arnold Krite, of Princeton Junction. She will be responsible for getting the necessary equipment to start the troop with funds provided by the auxiliary treasury.

Established troops in the West Windsor area are currently planning cook-outs, over-night parties, service projects, a skating party and a Christmas tree trimming. Troop 32 has scheduled a Halloween party for next Monday to begin their program for the year.

ever a varied group of technicians, scientists, mathematicians, accountants—all with differing approaches and attitudes — and make them work together as a team, in trying to harness tremendous energy. At this position requires him to negotiate with the Federal Government almost every day on the financial, scientific and administrative level.

This is not much science as politics (political scientist), and his unusual abilities, plus his devotion to the betterment of the Township, make him a formidable candidate for the Township Committee. Offhand, I can't remember when we have ever had a candidate like him.

SPORTS In Princeton

REAPPRAISAL. DUE Tigers Already Great. On the series of increasingly impressive performances that Princeton's football team has given this fall, it appears likely that only two factors could keep the Tigers from their second straight title
and a second unbeaten season.
Injuries to one or more key players might hobble them to the extent that they cannot handle Harvard or Dartmouth,
the two toughest opponents remaining on the schedule. Or they might lose by a point or a touchdown in a mudball-sort of weather conditions which nullify a favored team's corner weapons. To the extent that both play on even terms in a quagmire and one break decides the game.

If their key players remain in good condition and a dry field is assured for the returning two Saturdays, the Tigers must now be considered something better than an even bet to duplicate the achievement of 1960-61, when they went 9-and-0 season back to back. This is not to say that they will dominate all of their last five games to the extent

NO MAN'S LAND PENETRATED: Until fullback Bert Kersteller (third under elbow) buried into the Colgate end zone at 6:50 of the first period Saturday, no opponent in the visitors' previous four games this season had crossed their goal line. Tigers scored two more TD's. Charlie Gogolak busted two more field goals to set a national collegiate record in a 27-0 victory. (TOWN TOPICS Photo by Bob that they have the first four of that a victory by Harvard or Dartmouth would be approaching more than a mild upset for Princeton. The team has nevertheless, Princeton has shown such a solid brand of offensive power and take-charge defense in its first four games that the likelihood of other unbeaten season now

seems bright.

Offensively, Princeton has the one thing going for it for which it always drives: a rare line, possession-type running game. The first time the Tigers got their hands on the ball was against Colgate—the only major team in the nation whose goal-line was untouched—they rolled 69 yards to the end zone in 46 seconds.

Defensively, the inexpen-sable secondarily. It is important occasionally on pass defense, but it is learning. Two interceptions against Colgate Saturday were immediately productive of ten points on the Princeton side of the board. On the ground, the calibre of the Maliszewski and Clint Johnson ranging from competent to exceptional perfection.

The virtual guarantee of victory in a tight game is, of course, the fascinatingly accurate Charlie Gogolak. His average of better than 11 points in four games is the reason for understanding the fact that mud and rain would virtually neutralize the weapon with which Princeton seems likely to win a close contest against an opponent whose other abilities are essentially on a par with the Tigers. Dar-mouth appears to be just such a team.

QUICK LOOK AT FERN

OFFENSE: Building toward better days. Some running, little pass play.

DEFENSE: Only fair. Depth a problem.

CHIEF ASSIST: New coach, great spirit. Improved record to date.

CHIEF PROBLEM: Lack of standout players everywhere now that Bruce Malloy is out.

TYPE OF ATTACK: With split ends, wing and double wing.

Quakers in First Division. It has been six long years since Princeton played a Pennsylvania team that comes into the contest with a share of Princeton's side of the board.
standings and a highly satisfactory 3-1 mark overall. Even in brighter years, the fact that Blue has always sought a victory over Princeton has been another opponent on its schedule and it will fire every weapon
in its possession Saturday against the Quakers.

The Gogolak Legend Grows and Grows

The 26,000 spectators who watched Princeton defeat Colgate Saturday witnessed a football rarity: two national records broken by the same player in one afternoon.
Charlie Gogolak's first field goal, clearing the crossbar from 29 yards out with plenty to spare, raised his point total to 136, giving him two more than Rich Morrow of Alabama, who kicked 125 points a quarter century ago.
Because of war-time restrictions, incidentally, Morrow had four years of varsity action.

Gogolak's second field goal, a mere chip shot of 24 yards, raised his career total to 142, topping the record of 138 set earlier this decade by Billy Lottbridge of Georgia Tech.
Now, every time Gogolak boots a p.a. or a field goal, he'll set a new record. Several of them, actually, because he already holds all Princeton and Ivy records for one season and career totals and points scored by kicking.

Saturday's action throughout the season was indicative of the manner in which coaches everywhere are calling on placekickers. Texas kicked three in its battle against Arkansas for first place in the national rankings. Among Ivy teams, Brown booted one against Dartmouth; Cornell and Harvard matched a 2-3 tie; and played a team found itself on the Bucknell 11, tied at 13-11 with Dartmouth, second a sophomore who had never kicked a field goal before beheld one to give the Quakers victory.

With 135 career points to his credit, Gogolak needs 52 more to tie Princeton's last five games to break "Coach Fac-cetti's" career record of 185. If he does so, Tiger fans will have a very twisty goal for them.

"Our all-time scoring record," they can say, "was set by a fullback who wriggled only 153 pounds."

SOPHOMORE FUTURE: Lee Hatcher has started all four of Princeton's football games this season as a guard on the defensive unit. He is the only member of his class to earn a regular starting berth.

Sports in Princeton

Kickoff time in Palmer Stadium is 2 o'clock.

Fine team spirit and high morale have already been achieved by one-time Penn star Bob Odell in his first season as John Steigman's successor. The Quakers have earned narrow triumphs over Lehigh, Brown and Bucknell and threw a scare into a fumbling Dartmouth eleven at Hanover before succumbing, 24 to 19.

Penn's shortcomings are traceable to a general lack of personnel of more than journeyman ability. There is no player on the defensive unit who can consistently make the big play; there is no major point-getter on attack, now that halfback Bruce Molloy has been lost for the season with torn ligaments.

Unfortunately for the Quakers, Molloy sustained knee injury in the first half against Bucknell and underwent surgery Monday. Penn's running game without him will be about as effective as Colgate's, which was minus six in the first half and finally netted 22 yards.

Sophomore Pete Winiwiski has done most of the passing for Penn from the quarterback spot, but another sophomore,

Bill Creeden who sparked last year's unbeaten freshmen at Penn and Junior Tom Kennedy also see action. Ball carriers other than Molloy are fullback Walt Smith and halfback Rich Owens, with the latter also the Red and Blue's leading pass receiver.

Like Brown and Columbia, Penn is an Ivy opponent which has not defeated Princeton in the current decade, winning last here in 1959 — the season that saw Steve Selo pilot the Quakers to the Ivy title and then lose his job. Because the eager Princetonians seem impervious to let-downs against undermanned opponents, Saturday's contest does not figure to be close.

RUN 'EM RAGGED

Tigers Go Like the Wind. "It is as difficult an assignment as a coaching staff can have to teach a team in a single week how to defend the single wing. By the time they have had a good look at it, half the game is gone."

The speaker was a slightly subdued Hal Lahar, Colgate coach, whose team at half-time was behind, 17-0, and thereby yielded almost six times as many points as it had in all of its first four games. Dick Corman agreed that his offense had been blessed with better execution than at any time this season and both coaches said in their post-game conference that Colgate's constant scoring threat from 40 yards out was a tremendous psychological factor working for Princeton.

It was the unusual balance of the Tigers' running attack that made it so impressive against a team that came into Palmer Stadium with Colgate's record. The Raiders had not lost since they were here a year ago, and brought with them as holdovers ten of the 11 players on their highly-regarded defensive platoon.

A unit as strong as the visitors field should have had the ability to contain the Tigers either through the middle or to the outside, depending on their choice of strategy. But tailback Ron Landeck picked up 96 yards for a 4-6 average largely on the outside and full-back Bert Kerntetter gained 104 yards for a great 5.7 average through the center sector.

Princeton passing was not of the topdrawer variety 6 for 19 for 61 yards, and there is a weakness in that the line pass has rarely elicited all season. Both Lande and Dave Martin can throw the bomb, but it either overshoots the receivers or goes to players who are well covered.

Four teams which have lost to Princeton by margins ranging from 9 to 31 points have cumulatively outpassed the Tigers. A good part of this is traceable to errors by the defensive secondary, which has good speed but has been short on applied brainpower. As completely around. This was Dick Colman said after the game. Now that Cornell and Colgate have gained so much in passing against us, maybe the defensive backfield will turn from the Little Tigers to put a little more faith in what the coaches have been telling them.

TD on an Interception. The first Princeton touchdown was tallied by Kerntetter on a one-yard pass to climax a 6-play drive as early as 6:59 of the opening period. Six minutes later, Gogolak booted his first field goal, which he kicked to make it 10-0.

Doug James, who started at tailback as the second of Colgate plays on the looser 40 midway through the second quarter and raced untouched across the goal line. That 17-0 lead remained until the final period, when Gogolak's second field goal preceded a TD from four yards out credited to Dave Martin. That made it a 27-0 final—the victors' second shutout this year and sixth in their last two games.

and PHS came in to 7-6 to Trenton.
However, three plays netted Princeton nothing. It was forced to punt and Trenton started again on the Princeton 50. The Tornadoes were clearly first-up. From the sideline, someone shouted, "Goodbye, Princeton!"

Unaccountably, the Little Tigers seemed resigned to the feeling of most onlookers: an untouchable Touchdown. They were subdued. Moving inexorably now, Trenton took more shot remained on fourth down and one foot to go with 3:30 left.
One more shot remained to the Blue and White. Starting field the 20, Bill Cirullo gained one yard; two incomplete passes, Cirullo to Wood, fumbled and it was all over. PHS, which had gained 109 yards and seven first downs in the first half, failed to register a single first down in the second.

Commenting on the loss, Wood said that the team had missed Aracero (Tony Aracero, co-captain, was sidelined for the season last week with a shoulder injury) and Rich Stewart. Stewart, the other co-captain, sat out the game with a leg injury. He was especially missed as a linebacker, Wood added.

Also missed was the glue-fingered Vince Boccanfuso, who received a concussion at the hands of some overzealous Trenton defenders and had to leave the game in the first period. "After looking at the films we realize that we would have made more use of McEwen as a receiver," Wood went on.

The game itself was sprinkled with numerous penalties. In all, 65 yards were marched off against Trenton and 55 against Princeton.

REGATTA IS SCHEDULED

Saturday on Carnegie. Some 40 or 50 entries are expected Saturday in the annual Touchdown Bowl Regatta to be held on the lake by the Carnegie Sailing Club, of which John M. Reeder is commodore.

The first of three races in the International Penguin Club regatta at 10, with a luncheon at which prizes will be awarded to be held afterward at the Shrine Club on River Road. Walt Gibson is regatta chairman, with Jerry Lawson chairman of the race committee. Competing boats are expected from many parts of New Jersey, as well as Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware.

In the weekly races Sunday, Dexter Miller with Tim Miller as crew won the Penguin class race, followed by Phil Holt and John Reeder. Among the 14-foot sloops, Jerry Lawson with his wife, Nancy, as crew, led for first with Walt Gibson, three before losing last week for whom his daughter, Karen, served as crew. Tom Hilton was third.

RUN WINS, 7-6

is at Solebury Saturday. The Hun School, back in the thick of things in the Penn-Jersey League by virtue of its 7-6 shading of Germantown Friends last week, will go on the road again, journeying to New Hope, Pa., Saturday to oppose the Spartans of Solebury. Game time is 2:30.

Bryan Mitchell, Solebury's outstanding running back who had the Spartans eleven hardly two years, is gone but the Pennsylvania eleven hardly took notice by winning its first three before losing last week for the first time. Hun is 2-1 that winning point. It marked the first time this season in four tries that Hun which previously had tried to run the ball over, successfully converted; it was the first kicking attempt by Ruhle and the first time that the holder, Charlie Stretch, had performed that function. "Stretch had never held the ball before, even in a scrimmage," said Waterman. Hun's TD drive of 60 yards was the work of halfbacks Mike Miller and Steve Carr and fullback Charlie Chipman, with Chipman hanging over from the three. According to Waterman, Hun accounted for about half of the yardage.

Conceding that the Princeton one-yard line before time ran out. "We were getting disheartened because we couldn't punch one across," said Waterman, who added that his team had been caught off balance when Solebury scored on a 38-yard pass before the game was two minutes old. In the second half, continued Waterman, his kids decided they wanted to play more open to both juniors and sophomores in the final quarter, the Quakers, concentrating on passing, marched as far as the 100-yard line before the game was over. Mike Simko, Bruce Armstrong and Charles Schaefer were outstanding for Hudson during the game.

DAY SCHOOLS LOSE

In Two Fall Sports, The Princeton Day Schools lost in football, 13 to 7, to Blair Academy last week and dropped a 1-0 decision in soccer to Lawrenceville.

Down by 13 points at halftime, the football team made it close when Bob Reynolds scored on a four-yard run and Bill Riggs passed to Craig Page for the extra point. The loss had a second TD nullified by a penalty and were on the Blair five-yard line when the game ended.

Scoreless at the end of regulation time, the soccer team went into an extra period against Lawrenceville and yielded the only goal of the game with two minutes of the five-minute session gone. The defeats dropped both the football and soccer teams to the 360 mark with 1-1 records.

HORSE SHOWS PLANNED

At Chestnut Ridge. Monthly horse shows will be presented for the fifth consecutive winter season at the Chestnut Ridge Riding Club beginning Sunday. The shows will be held in the Club's indoor arena. The morning and early afternoon sessions will be for junior riders, through 16 years of age and will test the rider's ability both on the flat and over fences. Junior riders will also have a chance to exhibit their performance in four pony hunter classes and one for pony jumpers.

The remainder of the day will be devoted to events for both hunters and jumpers. These classes, to be judged on the performance of the horse, are open to both juniors and adults.

Robert F. Conner of New York, former trainer for Mrs. Allen Rubeen's Hasty House Stable of show hunters in Ohio, will serve as judge for the Sunday show. Robert Magnus will act as ringmaster for this and the rest of Chestnut Ridge's shows. Spectators are welcome.

BOWLING NOTES

Deckers Dairy Regains Lead. Deckers Dairy, forced to share the Three-Man Club League lead last week, opened a two-point gap between itself and its nearest rival, Johnson Electric. Deckers had 13 points while Johnson trailed with 11. Turney Motors and PEP remained challengers with 8 and 8 points respectively.

In the battle for individual honors, John Fitzgerald came out on top with a 226 high game. Joe Raddino was second with a 213, and Bill Penehl had games of 211 and 203. In the 200-club included Vince Tulmo, 210; Wally Brown, 201, and Frank Alderson, 200.

The Deckers Dairy entry in the Nassau League did not enjoy equal success, although managed to pull within two points of the league-leader, Cifelli Electric. Cifelli new has 26 while Deckers Dairy has 24. Grover Lamber, the Experts and Italian A.S.C. are all tied for third with 20 points.

Joe Luhrman proved himself the best individual competitor with a 233 high game. Other high game scores were Ernie Hunt, 216; Prosper Reschbacher, 214; Russ Rocco, 206; E. D. Nyström, 205, and Andy Drummond, 203.

In the Tri-County Firemen's League Princeton No. 1 increased its lead to four as it raised its 26th point compared with Dutch Neck's 22. Hook & Ladder and Plainsboro followed with 21 points apiece, and Mercer No. 3 kept in the race with 20.

Stan Tantum and Nelson Davison gave bowling lessons to the rest of the league members with their high single game and series. Tantum had a 247 marker and Davison rolled games of 190-196-213 for a 598 series.

Key Shop continued to lock-up the B League lead as it opened an 8-point margin over its three nearest competitors.

Person To Person

A student told us about the Booby bird, so called because of their acrobatic stupidity when they are angry. S. Kommer preached while on their nests.

Perhaps it is more fearlessness than stupidity for they are then protecting their eggs or offspring. Boobies are abundant only in the tropics where they nest on small islands, laying their chalky white eggs in crude nests or on the sand in low bushes. For food they fly over the ocean until they see a tasty fish then dive like a falling brick, break first, and catch their dinner before the poor fish knows what happened. Well we don't know how many people are interested in odd kinds of birds, but we do know just about everybody would like truly good service, and real bargains, the kind for which we are famous! OPPOSITE PRINCETON INN-TELEPHONE ANYTIME-921-2776

HISTORIC . . . only 6 men from New Jersey pledged "their lives, their property and their sacred honor," and signed the Declaration of Independence almost two centuries ago. The Governor lives in "Morven," the home of one of these men.
Available now is the home of another — John Hart, of Hopewell.
The present owners rescued this dwelling from its condition as a rural school, and have restored it with affection . . . and understanding. You will appreciate their interest and integrity of purpose when you read the bronze marker on the weathered granite boulder in the front yard.
This old farm house, with its twin living rooms, old pine floors, wide entrance hall and winding staircase is truly one of those priceless rarities
you read about, but seldom see.
The dining room is large and the kitchen is very modern and business-like on one side . . . but the other wall is huge old "cooking" fireplace. Both living rooms have fireplaces and so do two of the four bedrooms. And one that was taken to match the mantle pieces downstairs with the original ones upstairs that were destroyed, and all the infinite patience that went into the restoration of this historic bannister — and has to be called to your attention, for this bannister is so perfect that it looks as if it has been this way forever.
Barn, 3 acres of land (all in lawn), a variety of beautiful shade trees,
and a spacious 5-room apartment, completely separate, which can be used for an aged relative, or rented to bring in a substantial income.
